

vacancy ref. irna.19.29 | full time digital communication specialist

Ibn Rushd National Academy is a fast growing, young school, pioneering educational research and reform in the Middle East.

As an IB continuum world school, IRNA offers the IB Primary Years, Middle Years, and Diploma programmes.

Ibn Rushd National Academy seeks an enthusiastic and creative multimedia and digital communication specialist, with a desire to educate our young scholars, the potential to develop, and the talent to deliver, high quality and engaging learning.

The teaching role includes:

- developing course work pertaining to multimedia production and communication strategies,
- designing and delivering learner-led, creative learning engagements,
- promoting design thinking processes,

To thrive in this role, the successful candidate needs to be highly motivated and committed, love variety, work independently and under pressure, set priorities, communicate well, and be super organised even when working from home !

Familiarity with media production programmes, inquiry-based, conceptual learning, or the IB framework would be a great advantage, but not necessary.

The successful candidate:

- has an open-mind, positive attitude, and a growth mindset,
- is willing to experiment and learn whilst maintaining a great sense of humour!
- possesses strong interpersonal skills,
- inspires young minds,
- works with a high degree of accuracy,
- enjoys working individually and within a team,
- is an ambitious individual who wishes to develop his/her own skills and experience,
- has an engineering / science degree
- is fluent in both Arabic and English,

The diversity of this role means you would be involved in many aspects of the organisation, and would be a key part of a focused team.

If you have what it takes, please apply, including a one-page cover letter quoting the vacancy reference above telling us why you would be perfect for the job!
